

GIT World's Jewelry Design Awards 2015 has been greatly and successfully organized with deserved dignity, vie for Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn's Trophy

The 9th GIT World's Jewelry Design Awards 2015 under the theme of "Kaleidoscopic: Design Illusions behind the Lens" attracted a total of 290 designs. Among them, there were altogether 290 designs submitted of which 152 design works came from the general public and 138 of those were from the contestants, ages between 17 - 24 years, entering to compete in "Young Blood Designer Award". There have been international designers from 15 countries who participate in this contest, namely; Thailand, People's Republic of China, Japan, Taiwan, France, Malaysia, Vietnam, Sri Lanka, United Arab Emirates, Singapore, Australia, India, Iran, Egypt and Hong Kong. The design prequalification round was held on last Thursday 23th July, and the expert committee has selected a total of 30 designs. The qualified designs were exhibited alongside the works designed by students from the institute's design course. The five highest score designs and Young Blood Designer Award will be manufactured into the actual jewelry products and brought into the final round of the Jewelry Design Awards. The top winner will be bestowed with Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn's trophy, to coincide with the marking of the auspicious occasion of the Celebrations on Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn's 60th Birthday Anniversary, along with USD 3,000.- and 5 days study tour abroad to the La Maison Franco Pianegonda, the forefront brand name jewelry house in Italy. We have the special recognition for "Young Blood Designer Award" that we select from the contestants, ages between 17 - 24 years. As for the "Popular Design Award 2015", which is based on votes from interested persons among the 30 prequalified designs. On this occasion, there were a total of 1,990 votes from the participants.

The exhibition of jewelry designs was organized for 2 days. On Friday 27th November 2015, there were the final round of the competition and there was also a mini-concert of a singer; Khun Two Popetorn. The fashion show of jewelry designs by students of the institute's handmade jewelry design course was held on Wednesday 28th November 2015 at 1st floor, Eden Zone, Central World Shopping Center. The event activities include an exhibition of designs prequalified for the final round competition and there are numbers of event participants including relevant persons from government sector, entrepreneurs, designers, and other interested persons.
